Silent Runners

Deep down in the heart of Windows is the Registry. This giant database plays a large role in making sure Windows functions correctly.

When programs are installed on your computer, they often create an entry in the Registry. That way, the program will begin running when Windows starts. The problem is, programs may leave entries when they're uninstalled. Or spyware and viruses can create entries.

So, if you're having problems with your computer, it could be a problem with the Registry. Well, Silent Runners can help you out. This little piece of software will list the entries in the Registry. You can view the list to see if anything is amiss.

To run Silent Runners, right-click on the download link and select Save As. Once it's on your computer, double-click the program to run it. You'll get a file that lists the Registry entries.

Liven Up Your Desktop

Is your computer desktop getting a bit dull? Then maybe it is time to download new wallpaper!

At Caedes, you'll find thousands of images for your desktop. They're divided into categories such as photography and abstract. You're sure to find at least one that suits your taste.

But Caedes is more than just a site for downloading pictures. It is a community where visitors can upload images. Then, others offer comments – mostly positive ones.

So if you've created some pictures you're proud of, you can post them to the site. Or, if your images aren't up to snuff, check out the tutorials.

Note: To get the most of Caedes, you should register. It is free.
