Mamma Health

Health information is spread all over the Web. It can be cumbersome looking at each site for what you need. If only there were a search engine for that.

Wait! There is. Mamma Health is a search site still in the test stage. Type in medication or a health question. Mamma Health will search a plethora of trusty sites.

Rather than just provide links to the sources, content is displayed. Information like definitions, causes and cures is right there. If you need more information, you can click on a corresponding link. Rather than switching back to your favorite search site for another query, try Mamma. It also provides a regular search engine. The results are not as detailed as the health portion, but it gets the job done.

All for $39

Tom Locke had a simple idea one day. He had a roll of stamps and, apparently, plenty of time. He wrote to 100 companies, asking for free stuff.

His blog, The $39 Experiment, catalogues his experience. He has posted the content of each of his 100 letters. Some are pretty amusing.

The response of each company is posted as it arrives. Last time I checked, Locke had received nearly $275 worth of coupons and merchandise. Not bad for a $39 investment.

ANOTHER SIGN OF A STROKE

Ask the person to 'stick' out their tongue, if the tongue is 'crooked', if it goes to one side or the other, that is also an indication of a stroke.
